Two weeks ago a "picture found" was advertised in this paper, and an owner speedily discovered. We understand that the picture has been returned to its fair owner, "with a hope that it would afford her more pleasure than Payne." Such a sally is most enjoyable, by George!

An excursion train will leave this city next Monday morning, at 8:41 o'clock, for Cincinnati, arriving at that place at 1:45, P. M. The return train will leave Cincinnati at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, thus giving excursionists over thirty hours in the Queen City—ample time to visit the Exposition, Zoological Garden, and other points of interest in and near the city. The fare for the round trip is placed at the low sum of $1.80. There will be nearly a coach full of white passengers from this place on the excursion, and a good time is anticipated.

Rev. Dr. H. A. M. Henderson has been transferred to the California Conference by the Kentucky Conference recently in session at Richmond. He has been called to take charge of the M. E. Church, South, at San Jose, California, to which place he goes in November. His numerous friends in Kentucky, and especially in this city, regret his departure from this, his native State, feeling that we can ill afford to lose so good a man and valuable a citizen. We wish him unbounded prosperity in his new home.

Johnson-Taylor.

Quite a pleasant social event occurred at Shiloh Church, Woodford county, on Thursday evening last, in the marriage of Miss Mittie Taylor and Mr. H. P. Johnson. A large number of friends and acquaintances assembled to witness the ceremony, which was performed in a most beautiful and impressive manner by Rev. Dr. J. M. Lewis, of this city. The church was tastefully and elaborately decorated with arches, wreaths, and flowers—a beautiful marriage bell being suspended from the central arch, and beneath which the petite and delicately beautiful Miss Mittie ceased to be, and the genial and manly Price surrendered himself a willing captive in hymen's silken bonds.

Miss R. Florence Johnson and Mr. Burkett Taylor officiated as bridesmaid and groomsmen. The toilets of the ladies were elaborate and becoming, while the gentlemen were dressed in the conventional black broadcloth.

After the ceremonies the happy party repaired to the residence of Esq. Will. Darrell, step-father of the bride, where a bountiful repast, embracing all the delicacies of the season, was served up, and social amusements were indulged in until a late hour.

The best wishes of hosts of friends attend the newly wedded pair.

Miss Florence Mitchell, supported by a good company, will give a performance at Major Hall on Wednesday evening, October 8th. She is spoken of by the Louisville and Lexington papers as an actress of superior merit.

When a young man goes sparking; his sweetness is all wasted on the "desert air" unless his clothes fit him to a nicety. In order to make certain of such a fit leave your orders with V. Berberich, than whom a better tailor never took a measure or cut cloth. His fits are perfect, his goods of the best quality, his prices in keeping with the stringent times, and satisfaction guaranteed.

Kelly-Smith.

One of the greatest social events of the season was the marriage of Mr. Joseph C. Kelly, of Henry county, and Miss M. Virgie Smith, daughter of Hon. D. Howard Smith, which took place at the Baptist Church in this city at a quarter after one o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Green Clay Smith and Dr. J. M. Lewis officiating.

The Church was decorated with beautiful flowers and foliage plants in a style that evidenced great taste. The windows and doors were closed, and the house was lighted with gas, making the scene one of grandeur and grace. Every seat was filled, and standing room was in demand.

Promptly at the appointed time the happy couple arrived, and the bridegroom, accompanied by his brother, Dr. Clinton Kelly, of Louisville, entered the Church by the door on the north side and proceeded to the altar, followed by eight ushers, viz: Messrs. C. B. Bullock, Russell McRery, C. D. Portwood, Sidney K. Smith, J. J. Lemon, W. C. Dudley, C. B. Gillespie, and Breckinridge Viley—four coming down each aisle. The ministers were in place, the bridegroom standing on their left, and the ushers standing four on each side of the altar, when the beautiful bride, leaning on her father's arm, preceded by two little boys, Masters Harris Kelly and Phythian Saffell, each elegantly dressed and bearing flowers, approached the altar from the door on the south side of the Church. Here she was received by the bridegroom, and both took positions immediately in front of the ministers, when the ceremony was proceeded with in an unusually impressive manner.

The bride wore a white gros grain silk with white brocaded satin overskirt, over which and the bridal veil orange blossoms were tastefully arranged. She looked as beautiful as a vision of fairyland, and seemed as self-possessed as if she had been at home with only a few friends.

After the ceremony was performed the newly married pair, together with a few friends, repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where an elegant lunch was served, following which the happy couple took the 2:40 P. M. train for Cincinnati. Their many friends wish them happiness and prosperity without measure.
